Outside Support To Viet Cong Proved By U.S.

By DONALD H. MAY.

WASHINGTON 27P — The State Department today made public massive new evidence of outside Communist support and direction of the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam. It termed it "aggression as real as that of an invading army."

The 71-page "White Paper," which sought to justify U.S. bombings in North Viet Nam, said the Communist infiltration into South Viet Nam has increased to a new high and that Communist guerrillas there are receiving more and more weapons provided by Communist countries.

The report said that the Viet Nam conflict is no longer an "indigenous guerrilla" war, but has become a "locally new brand of aggression."

It said U.S. policy before the recent bombings in the North had been based on the hope "that the danger could be met within South Viet Nam itself."

Not Adequate

It added, however, that "clearly the restraints of the past was not providing adequately for the defense

Burley Growers Approve Quotas

NASHVILLE 27P — Burley tobacco growers in Tennessee and other burley producing states voted overwhelmingly Friday to continue marketing quotas on their crops for the next three years.

The vote in Tennessee was 78-543 for continuing the quotas and 1,303 against controls.

The Agriculture Department said in Washington the vote in the 14 burley producing states was 394,509 for the quotas while only 3,697 voted against, a 99 per cent margin of approval for the government program.

The results mean growers are in favor of heavy penalties for burley farmers who produce more than the Agriculture Department specifies under a national quota.

Tax Deductions Locally Are An Average, $1250

(Special to the Ledger & Times)

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 — How large are the income tax deductions claimed by residents of Calloway County, compared with those taken by people in other parts of the country?

A study shows that if all taxpayers, locally, were to itemize their deductions this year they would be listing gifts, contributions, medical expenses and the like in the average amount of $1,250 per family.

That is the estimated size of their deductions based on what taxpayers elsewhere in the United States, with similar average income, show in their Federal returns.

Studies made by the Internal Revenue Service and by the Commerce Clearing House, covering the 25 million tax returns on which deductions were itemized last year, give an idea of how much is usual at each income level.

Where average earnings are of the size of those prevailing in Calloway County, it is found that the deductions come to 21.3 percent of the local income.

In general, this percentage gets lower as income goes up and higher as it goes down. People in the $25,000 to $50,000 class, for example, deduct only about 15 percent of their gross income as against 23 percent for those in the under $5,000 group.

Persons with large incomes have bigger total deductions for medical expenses, but the deductions represent smaller percentages of their incomes than is the case in the lower brackets.

The studies also show that taxes and interest on debt are the principal deductions for those with small incomes. These items appear in practically all returns, as do deductions for gifts and contributions.

A breakdown of the $1,250 of deductions claimed by most taxpayers with incomes equal to the average in Calloway County shows that $215 of it is for contributions, $400 is for payment of interest on loans and on installment debt, $250 is for local taxes and $255 for medical costs.

The Custom Clearing House advises people against using the average deductions in itemizing their tax returns unless they can substantiate the amounts with proper records. The averages are not guidelines that a taxpayer may use to determine how much the Internal Revenue Service will allow.

Local People Attend Annual Meeting Of Coop Wednesday

One of the real challenges confronting farmer cooperatives today is the development of plans to cope with the changing agriculture picture, declared J. E. Given, Richmond, Virginia for Southern States Cooperative at a regional board meeting held in Oliveville, Kentucky on Wednesday.

These sessions — there are 48 of them being held in a five-state area — are held annually by the cooperative for local board and committee members, guest young farmers, agricultural workers and managers of the cooperative's retail outlets.

Mr. Given told the session that "not only are changes occurring in agriculture, but also in other segments of our economy. The business serving agriculture — either in the supply, or in the marketing field are undergoing similar changes."

"Agriculture is a growth industry — in fact, it is the nation's largest industry. Predictions are that total output will increase tremendously — perhaps as much as 40 per cent in the next 15 years," he said.

"The future of Southern States Cooperative," Given said, "and its effectiveness for farmers will be governed very largely by how well it adapts to change and how capable it is of taking the leadership in meeting the demands of its members."

Board and committee members, plus leading farmers in the area served by Southern States, were surveyed recently by the cooperative regarding their buying habits and their use of services offered by the organization.

Although not yet complete, Mr. Given reported a sampling of the returns show that by 1970 about 25 per cent of the farmers in the cooperative's territory expect to have larger operations; about 30 per cent plan to have greater pasture acreage and about 45 per cent to have larger livestock herds.

Approximately 45 per cent indicated they would be using more production supplies in 1970 than now. Over 30 per cent said they would be using about the same as they are now doing.

About 30 per cent indicated they would be using more of their cooperative's services as their source for these supplies while over 55 per cent indicated they would be using it at the same rate as they are now doing.

In commenting on the overall volume of the cooperative for the first six months of the 1964-65 fiscal year he reported that dollar volume in both purchasing and marketing totaled about $36,000,000. This was down from the same period last year and was due primarily to lower price levels on feed in-redients, lower seed prices, the closing of a poultry dressing plant and dropping cottons in some areas, which contributed to less farm purchasing.

Volume of hay and direct shipments of feed ingredients was down 100,000 tons from the previous year. This was due to the great quantity of these supplies which the cooperative had shipped to stricken farmers during the severe drought of 1963.

Grain marketing for the six-month period was 1,400,000 bushels ahead of last year, an increase of 33 per cent.

O. H. Campbell of Henderson, Ky., a director of the cooperative, presided at the session.

Guest young farmers attending the meeting were Danny Cunningham, Larry Hale, James D. Erwin, and Charles Ouland.

Attending the session from this area were W. Robert Petty, manager of Calloway County Soil Improvement Association, local Southern States retail outlet at Murray, and board members A. O. Cochran, Royal Parker, H. B. Fulton, Ellis Ross Paschall, and Dan Shipley.

Alabama Seeks To Kill Hopes For Vanderbilt Tonight

By United Press International

Alabama seeks to continue its role as a giant killer tonight against tall and talented Vanderbilt.

But the Crimson Tide's task is more formidable than it was in upending Tennessee and Kentucky at Tuscaloosa in its last two games.

Alabama takes on Vanderbilt at Nashville, and the Commodores have been beaten only once at home this year.

Vanderbilt, atop the Southeastern Conference one game ahead of Tennessee, plays three of its last four games at home. The Volunteers play two of their final four away and those two are on the booby-trapped courts of Kentucky and Florida.

Tennessee met Kentucky this afternoon in a regionally televised contest.

The rest of the SEC schedule tonight has Florida at Georgia, Mississippi State at Mississippi and Louisiana State at Tulane.

In the only action Friday night, Auburn fell before Georgia Tech 59-54 at home. Senior R. D. Craddock scored 18 points and sophomore Pres Judy hit in the clutch to allow Tech to end a 14-11 season on a victory note. The loss was Auburn's first at home in more than a year. Joe Newton, with 23 points, paced the Tigers.

Racers In Track Meet At Memphis Today

The Murray State track team, champions of the college division of the Jaycee indoor track meet at Memphis for the last three years, will participate in the university division this year.

The Jaycee Invitational is scheduled for Saturday, (Feb. 27).

The Murray Racers have run in two previous indoor meets this year, winning the Memphis State Invitational and placing fourth in the Chattanooga Jaycee Invitational.

Finishing ahead of the Racers at Chattanooga were Kentucky State, Tennessee, and Tennessee A & I.

The top performance this season for the team has been Jim Freeman's 60-second in the 60-yard dash, just one-tenth of a second from the world's record in the event.

The stocky sprinter also anchors the Racers' sprint relay team.

Charles Allen, holder of all Murray State hurdle records, is another standout on the squad. Last week at Chattanooga he set a stadium mark in the 60-yard hurdles with a time of 12 seconds in a qualifying run, but defeated in the final.

High jumping for the Thoroughbreds is Augie Schiller, who last season won the NCAA Indoor East Regional high jump. At the Memphis State Invitational he cleared 6-7 1/2, only one-half inch under his school record.

Bob Gross will carry most of the Racers' hopes in the quarter-mile. In the Memphis meet three weeks ago, the lanky sprinter won the 440-yard dash and anchored Murray State's winning mile and eight lap relay teams.

In the relay events Murray State's sprint relay team is the Racers' finest. The squad competed in the 200-yard shuttle relay at Chattanooga Saturday finished second. Tennessee A & I tossed out the Racers by only one-tenth of a second in a time of 21.3 seconds. Both squads were under the former meet record.

Freeman anchors the team which is also composed of Wayne Wilson, Sam Kossy, and Bob Doty, present Ohio Valley Conference 100-yard dash champion.

SAYS RUSSIANS TRIED TO CONFISCATE HIS BOAT—Holding a canvas bag rigged as a temporary sail, Capt. John Francis Jr., 32, Newport, R.I., said that when his boat's engine failed, a nearby Russian fishing boat refused to relay a distress message to the Coast Guard, then sent a boarding party which attempted to confiscate his vessel, the Ruth and Helen, off Montauk Point, N.Y. In the background is Francis' son, Richard, a member of the crew. After repairs were made to its radio, the trawler Ruth and Helen was towed to Newport by the Coast Guard.

M.S.C. Racers Sport Best Record Since '43; Host Western

The Murray State Racers, working toward the best regular-season record for a Murray basketball team since 1943, will be host to their arch-rival, Western Kentucky, tonight.

The Racers assured themselves of the best record since 1961 when they edged Middle Tennessee Wednesday night 91-89 in overtime. The win also kept alive the Murray home-floor winning streak. Their record is now 17-7 overall and 7-5 in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Herb McPherson, scoring the most points of his college career, 26, won the Middle Tennessee game for the Racers, connecting on a 20-foot jump shot with one second left in the overtime. The 6-4 McPherson also had a great night on the backboards, pulling in 19 rebounds.

Murray and Western have already played two games this season. The Racers took the Toppers 77-48 in the finals of the OVC tournament last December but fell to them 71-70 at Bowling Green in an overtime.

The Hilltoppers are in second place in the OVC with a 70-3 record. They are 16-6 overall. An added incentive for the Toppers is the possibility of a bid to the National Invitational Tournament.

The game will be played before a packed house as all tickets to the game have been sold. Among the spectators will be most of the Murray team of 1961, who were regular season and tournament champions of the OVC. The 31 team will be honored by the college and the Thoroughbred Club at halftime.

They will also be entertained at a pre-game banquet.

In the long, hot series between

Murray and Western, the Hilltoppers have won 60 games to the Racers' 30 but practically all of them have been down-to-the-wire battles. Murray, however, has won 5 of the last 6 games.

The Racers freshmen will try to avenge a loss at Western in a preliminary to the varsity game. The frosh behind Leonard Poole's 30 points and Dick Cunningham's 38 rebounds trounced the Middle Tennessee freshmen 136-75 Wednesday night. The freshman game will begin at 6 p. m., the varsity at 8.

DESPERATION VALLEY
as chronicled in John Hunter's new novel.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED? Shawan McCord, who came from Indiana to fight in the Union army, and Abner, who had been a Confederate soldier, found themselves in a desperate struggle for survival in the wilderness of the West. The story is a tale of adventure, danger, and the human spirit.

CHAPTER 6
FOURTEEN paraded out of Blue Fork in heavy silence. Abner, Shawan and Dolan in the lead, eleven Indians following. Remembering Betty Parkette's cautioning words, Shawan kept close to Abner's left. Dolan had plenty of opportunity if he meant harm to Parkette, yet they had never been on such a mission as this together, and Shawan had a respect for a woman's intuitive fears.

The women and children who gathered before the store had pulled back, even the children silent, watching. McCord saw the look of dread on the women's faces. War, he thought, was never for women. A woman's life, her home, the safety of her children.

He glanced back at the men behind him. Their faces were of a dozen different shades. Two were as white as Abner, and one looked to be full-blooded Indian. From Abner he had heard that through all of their "rains" they had maintained their way of life, their form of government, even when intermarriage had so thinned the Cherokee blood that there were few among them who could not point to at least one white forebear.

Dear Abby...

Be A "Santa's Helper"!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is this old lady in our neighborhood who lives alone. Every year she goes all out with Christmas decorations. She has a big wreath in every window, and in the big picture window she has a huge Christmas tree with little tiny red and green lights that blink off and on. Then, on her porch, she has a life-sized Claus. It looks real nice around Christmas, but here it is almost March and she hasn't taken it down yet. Is there some way we can tell her? We thought of writing an anonymous letter to her, but our mothers said absolutely not. How can two 13-year-old boys tell a grown lady to take in her Christmas decorations because people laugh when they go by?

M. AND J.

DEAR M. AND J.: Perhaps the lady is not well, or maybe she has no one to help her take down the decorations. Why don't you call on her and offer to do the job? If you are Boy Scouts, it could be your good deed for the day. If you aren't Boy Scouts, be good scouts and offer anyway.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a doctor who says to a husband, band, who came to him seeking his advice on how to get along with a wife while she is going through her menopause, "Why do you think I am on my third wife? There is absolutely nothing you can do, so you might as well forget it." Don't you think that husband should find himself another doctor?

WAITING FOR YOUR REPLY

DEAR WAITING: Yes, and if he finds one with two, gonorrhea, he should invite that doctor to be his guest.

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a question rather than a problem. It arose from the following situation: Recently a friend of ours passed away. My wife and I, who are Roman Catholics, went to the funeral parlor to pay our respects. My wife knelt in front of the casket and said a prayer. I maintain that, because the deceased was Protestant, my wife should not have knelt. We've asked several people their opinions, and you would be surprised at some of the answers we've heard from both Catholics and Protestants. Last year, when I attended a Bar Mitzvah, I wore a cap and prayer shawl. I would certainly not have prayed in a Catholic manner while attending a Jewish service. What is your opinion?

N. J. F. IN CLEVELAND

DEAR N. J. F.: I believe that one should be able to pray in his own way with impunity, whether sitting, standing, kneeling, facing East, with head covered or left bare. If, however, one goes to a house of worship other than that of his own faith, if he is required to do special attire or conform to special rites or customs, he will be advised when he enters. More important than the manner in which one speaks to God is his sincerity in speaking.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CECILIA: Does your mother know you're way out?

Frenchwoman Likes Long Stem Flowers

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Frenchwoman florist whose customers include President Charles de Gaulle took one look at floral arrangements and decided:

The long-stemmed beauty look for which American girls are famous should be applied to flowers as well.

"In France, we do much taller, larger arrangements," said Bury Aignan. "I don't know why you cut, cut, cut the stems. In France, we do not. Maybe it is because we do things with the grand gesture."

She figured, however, that one reason U. S. florists usually make smaller arrangements is the difference in homes. Most of those in her native Paris, for instance, are tall, old structures with high ceilings and giant rooms which call for large arrangements. Low-ceilinged, modern housing in the United States does not.

Mme. Aignan, 48, wife of a construction engineer and mother of two teen-aged boys, represents a fourth generation of her family as florist. Her great-grandfather founded the firm, Debré-Millon, in 1883.

Now, she, her father, mother and one sister run the shop located amid the great fashion houses of Paris.

Mme. Aignan said the shop holds numerous awards for floral arrangements—every time we enter an exhibition, we take first prize," she said, without bragging, but as if this were a thing to be expected from 113 years of flowers.

The ministry of foreign affairs regularly orders from them for state occasions. But for the presidential residence, De Gaulle's own gardeners provide the flowers.

Mme. Aignan, her family, and a supplemental staff, placed flowers in every room of the many-roomed palace of Versailles when the late President Kennedy and his wife were on an official visit to France.

The palace was site for a De Gaulle reception. She said some 80 arrangements were placed about, each planned to blend with the tapestries and rugs of the rooms.

She also planned flowers for the Palais du Quai d'Orsay which the Kennedys occupied during their visit. She used many mixed spring flower bouquets, she said—"protocol had told us Mrs. Kennedy liked them."

Versatile Blouses

Many New Styles For Varied Uses

By SUSAN BARDEN

THE latest predictions are that blouses are going back to the old tuck-in formula. But we doubt this.

First, the teenagers really love pull-overs and, second, the majority of women of all ages have become accustomed to the easy lines and camouflage effects of styles that do not demand a tiny waist.

Fashion trends are, however, pointing to fewer blouses and over-blouses. Nevertheless, our clever designers have made a nice compromise and have produced lots of styles which may be worn either inside or out.

Other attractive innovations are the blouses that stress the feminine and flirty, the strictly tailored for suits and the types that are enhanced by self bows.
